

Amsterdam, February 2016

Since my time as international press officer at the official Amsterdam Tourist and Congress Board I collaborate with international press visiting Amsterdam, creating rich content stories about this beautiful city.

It is my passion to meet interesting people and I love the natural curiosity of international journalists.

I like to mix different ideas, themes, locations, venues, connecting them to produce rich and original media content for an international audience.

Whether for written press, radio, or tv-productions, I combine my knowledge about Amsterdam and its people with a keen eye for camera shots, a hands-on mentality and good old Dutch pragmatism to ensure the best results.

Over the years this approach proved very successful and has resulted in more than 100 publications and media productions about Amsterdam in high end magazines, travel portals, tv shows and radio programs all over the world.

So tell me what you need and how you think we can work together
